

Over the last week, Blackbirds have enjoyed getting straight back into their learning. We have continued developing our phonic skills through feeding the aliens with pseudo words, writing words with the correct alternative sound and applying these skills through phonic games.

During English we started the week writing letters to our friends and family. We have also written some brilliant poetry. They are all about what happens when lights go out in the sweet shop.

Blackbirds have dived straight back in with maths this week. Our focus has been on place value and representing numbers 0-50. The children have really enjoyed applying these skills through our virtual lessons and games. We have also challenged ourselves by doing extra addition.

During the afternoons the learning hasn't stopped. We have been very busy baking, enjoying walks, responding to music, being creative in art, working on our cores during P.E, developing our life skills during First Aid and so much more.
